

Document Recovery Services IRS Case Study - Austin, TX 2-2010

This case study will share the details of a document recovery project that BMS CAT completed for the IRS. This project included recovery of: 6,500 boxes of fire-damaged and wet documents that were active taxpayer records under audit; 1,500 boxes of open criminal investigation cases and grand jury cases; and IRS employees' personal effects, including passports, money, etc.

Mark Rocco is the Senior Vice President of BMS CAT, Inc. and BMS Global, LLC. Mark's experience with major disasters and losses covers the spectrum: hospitals, schools, government facilities, hotels, commercial office buildings, industrial plants and airline crashes. Mark is experienced in major fire/water losses as well as earthquake damage. Mark is considered by many as a world-leading expert on air crash recovery, procedures and personal effects. Mark has been extensively involved in several well-known disasters, leading restoration and document recovery efforts.
